County Basket Ball Tournament

The annual basketball tournament for schools in Shelby County will get under way at Montevallo at 2 p.m. Friday with four junior high games. In the first round of play for the juniors, Thompson High of Siluria meets Wilsonville in the opener. Other games in the first round are Montevallo vs Vincent at 3 p.m.; Chelsea vs Columbiana at 4; and Calera vs Helena at 5.

The night session will find Columbiana vs Montevallo and Thompson vs Vincent in senior play. Calera drew a bye.

Semi finals will be held Saturday afternoon and the finals for both junior and senior high will be Saturday night.

The coaches and referees will pick all-county teams in both divisions.

Wilsonville is considered the top junior team.

A wild scramble should be in the offing in the senior high division. Montevallo is defending champion having won for the past two years, but Calera and Columbiana seem to be favored this year.

Meetings For Soil Testing

Alabama farmers now have a public soil testing service available to them. We recommend this service to you to enable you to do a more accurate job of fertilizing your crops. The laboratory, located at Auburn will furnish our office with supplies for mailing the soil samples to the laboratory. A nominal charge will be made for this service. The laboratory will determine the replaceable calcium, pH, phosphorus, and exchangeable potash. The results of the test and fertilizer recommendations will be mailed to the farmer from the laboratory. Our office will receive a copy of the report and recommendations.

We have planned a series of meetings to explain the program and show you how to take and to send samples to the laboratory. I hope each farmer in these communities will attend the meeting most convenient.

Monday, Feb. 23, Homer Talton Farm, Kingdom, 9:30 a.m.; J. L. Roper Farm, Fourmile, 1:30 p.m.

Tuesday, Feb. 24, Clyde Wyatt Farm, Harpersville, 9:30 a.m.; J. M. Snyder Farm, Arkwright, 1:30 p.m.

Cast Nemed For Caesar's Ghost

Miss Iris Kirkpatrick, Director of the Junior Class Play, "Great Caesar's Ghost", announces the cast: Mary McIntosh, Othella Garrett, Marian Davidson, Eugene Brett, Claudette Hinds, Howard Moore, Jeannine Sides, Edward Brasher, Ann Davenport, James Davis, Mason Green and Sammie Street.

The play written by William D. Fisher, and published by the Heuer Publishing Company, features a nice, tame, pet ghost, which makes "Great Caesar's Ghost" a most unusual farce for the amateur stage.

The play will be presented on the evening of March 6 at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium.

Tacky Party

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Veasey entertained the young people of the Methodist Church last Saturday evening at their home in Twin Oaks with a tacky party.

Everyone came dressed in a tacky costume.

An evening of contests and games were enjoyed.

The winners in the cracker eating contest were Patricia Lawrence, La Clair Cowart, Bobby Bowdon and Danny Jacks. Refreshments were served the group of twenty two young people with hot dogs, heart shaped cakes and candies, carrying out the Valentine celebration.

Chaperones were Mesdames J. E. Armstrong, R. E. Bowdon, Jr., L. B. Stewart and Clyde Lawrence.

Everyone thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

Alabama's Patch-Pants Constitution

(Montgomery Advertiser)

The generalization may be hazarded that American states commonly resist reapportionment of their legislatures and modernization of their constitutions. Ohio recently refused to rewrite its constitution the same as Alabama has been refusing since 1901.

The resistance to reapportionment in Alabama and elsewhere represents a mocking failure of our democracy. It simply means that many of us are not willing to abide by the fundamental rules of the game, which is toward representation in the legislature upon a basis of population. The refusal is as human as it is indefensible since in many cases a vote for reapportionment by a legislator is a vote to abolish his seat.

Alabama's Constitution directs that the legislature shall be reapportioned after each census. Congress systematically and rigorously reapportions, but Alabama has ignored its Constitution for half a century.

A constitutional convention to rewrite the Constitution, such as was done in 1901 and before, is not an easy issue to popularize. Somehow and rather fantastically it got into Folsom's 1946 huckster's kit, but he never generated any interest in the undertaking.

But for a state in which reapportionment is blocked and no one stays mad about the fact, it is not surprising that the rewriting of the Constitution has been blocked. For too many elements consider that a constitutional convention would prove a Pandora's box from which all manner of monsters and malicious pixies, nixes and elves would emanate.

Taft Bishop, Jr. Is Made PFC.

With the 40th Infantry Division in Korea — Taft Bishop, Jr., whose parents live on Rt. 1, Siluria, has been promoted to private first class while serving with the 40th Infantry Division.

The outfit arrived in Korea last year after intensive field training in Japan.

World War II veterans will remember this same division joined in the assault landing at Lingayen, Luzon of the Philippine Islands in early 1945 and drove toward Manila running into heavy fighting in the Fort Stotsonburg area and the Bambam Hills.

Bishop is assigned as a radio telephone operator in Battery A of the 555th Field Artillery Battalion. He entered the Army in September 1951.

For one thing, reapportionment could be got past the legislature with the Constitution opened up. That is but one example of the mischief, as some conceive mischief, that could be done.

But the Constitution is in need of rewriting. It is a vast patchwork with an untubulated number of amendments. That most of our state elections include proposed constitutional amendments is evidence of its inadequacy. At the present rate of amending and exemption it won't be long before half the counties live under one Constitution and half under quite another. Alabama's Constitution is many times the size of the U. S. Constitution, and it's growing fast.

Thompson High Beauty Contest

Plans are being made for a beauty contest to be held at Thompson High School Auditorium on Friday, March 13, at 7:30 p.m. This event is being sponsored by the grounds beautification committee of the Parent Teachers Association. Mrs. John Kroell is chairman of this group.

The contestants are being sponsored by the various business houses of our school district. A record number of entries are expected, and a fine program has been planned in connection with this contest. Proceeds will go toward construction of new concrete walks on the Thompson High School campus.

Home Demonstration Club News Notes

Helps in family entertaining will be given Food Leaders on March 6. Miss Mary Hulsey, Extension Foods and Nutrition Specialist, will conduct this leadership school in the Old Courthouse Auditorium, Columbiana, from 10 to 12 o'clock.

Foods Leaders will repeat the demonstration in their clubs during March.

Shelby County Home Demonstration club members are learning to finish and refinish furniture. Home furnishings leaders are conducting this demonstration in 25 clubs during February.

Leaders are emphasizing that only pieces that have good lines and are well constructed are worth the time, money, and effort needed to do the refinishing job. Usually, pieces made of cheaper woods should be painted, while the finer woods take a number of finishes.

The refinishing process involves four processes: repair, removal of old finish, preparation of surface for new finish, and application of new finish.

An excellent paint remover is made by mixing one quart of benzole and one quart of denatured alcohol. Use as for any other paint remover.

Transparent finishes desirable on the finer cabinet woods that have good natural grain and coloring are: oiled finishes, or clear varnish and wax, or penetrating wood sealer and wax, or shellac and wax.

For old or new unfinished pieces made of good wood with a nice grain but not handsome enough to take a transparent finish, use the penetrating oil stain in the preferred color. Apply the stain with a brush, let it stand two or three minutes, then rub with a soft cloth. Rub with a circular motion to insure an even color and let dry for 36 hours. Use one part white shellac and five parts denatured alcohol to seal the stain. Finish wood with oil, sealer, varnish or shellac and wax.

Paint and enamel are good finishes for cheaper grades of wood and for wood possessing no natural beauty. After the priming coat, two or three coats of paint in the desired color should be applied. Each coat should be rubbed lightly with 0000 sandpaper when thoroughly dry.

Enamel is used for a finish and not a covering product. Apply one coat of flat paint, one coat of half flat paint and half enamel, and finish with one coat of enamel.

These points should be remembered in refinishing: Don't begin a new process until the preceding one is completely dry and satisfactory, don't skip a step, leave pieces to dry in a room away from dust and traffic, thin coats dry more quickly, rub down better and look better, good quality of materials and workmanship is cheaper in the long run.

Shelby County Home Demonstration club women are making plans to attend their District meeting at the University, April 30.

The meeting will be held at Morgan Hall and lunch will be served in the dining hall. The program will include brief talks by Mrs. Lillie Maude Alexander, State Home Demonstration Agent; Mrs. L. Chatterton, President of the Alabama Home Demonstration Council; Devotional by Mrs. J. Frank; a pageant showing outstanding accomplishments and objectives by counties to be narrated by Miss Ann Barr, State 4-H Girls' Leader; a program by the University Glee Club and other features.

Reservations for lunch must be in the home agent's office before April 8.

Low Incidence Of Major Diseases

During the year 1952 Shelby County fortunately had a low incidence of the major preventable diseases.

There were 2 cases of Diphtheria; 1 case of Typhoid Fever and 7 cases of Whooping Cough. This was a very small number of cases as compared to a few years ago but all these could have been prevented by protective inoculation.

There were only 4 cases of Polio while some sections of the country suffered their worst epidemic of this disease. The prospect of the development of a vaccine against this disease in the near future is very bright.

There were 2 cases of epidemic type Meningitis and 1 case of Undulant Fever.

Some of the common infectious diseases as Measles, Chickenpox and Mumps are still with us from year to year. However, Measles can be prevented or modified by Gamma Globulin if the time of exposure is known.

Syphilis and Malaria, both formerly very prevalent, have been almost entirely eradicated. The intensive campaign against Syphilis has made this, at present, a rather uncommon disease.

Tuberculosis remains the major communicable disease problem.

Twenty new cases were found in 1952 and already more than one-fourth that number have been diagnosed this year. Five active cases were recently found within 2 weeks.

The expense of treating Tuberculosis is great. However, when sufficient funds are available this disease will also be eradicated. — Dr. E. F. Sloan, County Health Officer.

Ben Gaiters, Jr. Is In Korea

With the 7th Infantry Division in Korea — The contributions of a Calera soldier and his buddies are helping rebuild a war-leveled Korean School.

Pfc. Ben Gaiters, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Gaiters, Rt. 2, Calera, and other members of the 32nd Regiment are giving part of their monthly pay to the building fund.

The money is being used to build a new school in Pochon, one of the hardest-hit cities in the Republic of Korea.

A city of 35,000, Pochon had 123 school classrooms before the Korean outbreak. Now it has only four.

Private Gaiters, a truck driver in the Heavy Mortar Company entered the Army November 1951, and arrived in Korea June 1952. He has been awarded the Combat Infantryman Badge and the Korean Service Ribbon with one campaign star.

Gaiters attended Calera Junior High School.

At the end of 1952, there were about 39,350,000 Bell telephones in service, and people throughout the country were using them at the rate of 149 million conversations a day.

John Doyle Died

Mr. John Isaac Doyle of 1212 Sloan Ave., Tarrant City, passed away Saturday morning at his home. He is survived by the wife, Mrs. Ula Martin Doyle; two brothers, Joe Doyle of Montevallo, and E. O. Doyle of Birmingham; one sister, Mrs. R. L. Foster of Mulberry, Fla. Several neices and nephews also.

Funeral services were held Monday at 2:30 p.m. from the Calera Methodist Church. Burial in Jones Cemetery. Rev. L. B. Stewart officiated.

Active pallbearers were John Cowart, R. E. Bowdon, Jr., Joe Q. Culver and J. L. Hill.

Hay Baler Is Latest Dearborn Farm Equipment

The new Dearborn Hay Baler, latest addition to the Dearborn line of farm equipment, will produce three to eight bales per minute and has a capacity of up to 10 tons of hay per hour, according to G. D. Andrews, Vice-President in Charge of Sales, Dearborn Motors Corporation.

This capacity provides farmers with fast, efficient, one-man baling. Bales measure 16 inches by 18 inches in either 36 or 42-inch lengths. Bale weight can be adjusted between 50 and 100 pounds.

A 25 horsepower engine provides ample power for baling under varied conditions. With this powerful engine, stacked hay can be baled as efficiently as windrowed hay.

A large size plunger compresses hay without missing a stroke during the tying operation. The knot is tied while the bale is under compression and the twine is tension free. The result is a firm knot plus a saving in twine.

The 59-stroke floating pickup has a guide wheel on the outer side which follows ground contours closely, leaving less hay on the ground. After the hay has been picked up, an even-feeding auger and sweep fork gently move it into the baling chamber.

An automatic bale tension bar makes possible better packed, tightly tied, square bales, ideal for easy handling.

The Dearborn Hay Baler is well balanced on the axle for maximum handling ease on rough fields and slopes. An adjustable drawbar provides easier maneuvering through gates and narrow lanes. A built-in drawbar jack eliminates heavy lifting when attaching or detaching the implement. Power is controlled by a rope within very easy reach of the operator on the tractor seat.

A bale counter which keeps a constant record of baling progress as well as starting equipment are both included as standard equipment with the baler.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Quinton Culver entertained last Friday, Feb. 13, with a dinner in honor of their mother's birthday, Mrs. J. H. Culver. Red and white heart shaped cake centered the dining table. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Pete Hill.

Report from Washington

BY
ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

The Citizens Committee for the Hoover Report has reorganized and is destined to play a big part in the new Administration's government reorganization programs. Activated in 1947, the Hoover Commission, as it is most often called, dissolved in June, 1952 in order "to avoid becoming involved in campaigns and elections."

Since its founding the Commission has advocated major changes in various parts of the government. A spokesman for the Commission says it is presently backing 20 specific proposals which it has unsuccessfully pushed the past two years. Among the proposals are those to reorganize the Executive Branch of the government so as to give more adequate assistance to the President; decentralize Civil Service operations and make it easier for personnel to transfer from one agency to another; and do away with Senate confirmation of postmaster appointments in order to curb political favoritism.

Congress has tackled problems of changes in government since 1912, but no significant developments came until 1947. One of the most recently publicized plans adopted by Congress was a law passed in 1952 which placed all jobs in the Bureau of Internal Revenue under Civil Service except that of the top Commissioner. Under the law the 64 offices of Collector of Internal Revenue were abolished.

Current interest in government changes is pointed out by the 16 reorganization bills introduced by one House member on the opening day of the present Congress. Numerous other bills of this nature have been offered since then. Although some of the proposed changes have gained popularity, others remain highly controversial.

The Hoover Commission has not yet given up hope for plans it recommended in 1949 to establish a Department of Social Security and Education and to combine all public health functions into one major department. Bills to this effect have been introduced this year and are now being studied by the Government Operations Committee. When former President Truman endorsed bills to make the Federal Security Agency a department in 1949, Congress rejected the plans along with similar proposals by the Hoover Commission.

Another development in the reorganization drive took place recently when President Eisenhower signed into law a bill which gives him executive reorganization power until April 1, 1955. Truman used the same powers from 1949-1952. The law allows the President to submit to Congress plans for changing government departments. Such plans become law 60 days after they are submitted unless disapproved by vote of a constitutional majority of either the House or Senate. A constitutional majority is a majority of all the House and Senate members, rather than the majority of those who are present when the voting takes place.

With the renewed interest in reorganization of the government, this year could see big changes in some branches of the national government.

Veterans Testify

Representatives from three major veterans groups appeared at our recent Veterans Affairs Committee meeting to give their suggestions for this year's legislative program.

Those who testified were from the American Legion, AMVETS, and Disabled American veterans. They told the Committee they would be against any efforts to increase the present four per cent interest rate on GI home loans. They also recommended approval of an emergency $15 million appropriation for the VA hospital program in order to prevent it from "further deterioration."

The chairman of our Committee has notified me that I am to serve on two Veterans Affairs subcommittees. These are Administration and Finance in the Veterans Administration, and Insurance. The study and research which will be my duty as a member of these subcommittees, will, I am sure, be of tremendous interest.

Attends Scout Meeting

I was very pleased to be one of about 60 guests paying tribute to the Boy Scouts of America recently at a breakfast commemorating their 43rd Anniversary. Present on this occasion were several cabinet members and Congressmen and a group of outstanding Scout Leaders from over the nation. During the breakfast, we were given a review of the major Scout plans for this year, including a gigantic jamboree in California in July.

After this event, the Boy Scouts went to see President Eisenhower. They later visited the Supreme Court and other branches of the government.

Suicides

The State Department of Health announced today that 54 Alabama suicides were reported in July, August and September, of which 1 was reported from Shelby County.

On The Farms Of Shelby County

Robert S. Waites, Helena, became a cooperator of the North Central Soil Conservation District this week. His first SCS assistance was in planning management of his sericea. Also, dallis grass was suggested as an addition to his white clover, orchard grass lowland pasture. He had seen his neighbor's (Earle Morgan's) coastal bermuda, and plans to plant a one acre patch to raise his own coastal bermuda stolons. Mr. Waites has engaged 400 lbs of Chapel Hill Rescue seed from the Columbiana FFA chapter.

Incidentally, FFA chapters at Vincent and Siluria are ready to list orders for this new grass.

New or revised conservation farm plans will be delivered to A. G. Ling, Chelsea; James M. Rowe, Jr., Vincent, and Earl Isbell, Dunnavant.

Joe D. Kinney is building two fescue meadow outlets about 2000 feet long to be planted this spring. Terraces to empty into them will be staked out by SCS this fall.

Mr. C. T. Wallace, Pea Ridge, had this to say about using nitrate to increase grazing: "I top dressed my crimson clover and rye grass inside my electric fence in January. That outside had no nitrate. My cattle are unable to keep up with the growth in the nitrated area, while that outside the fence is still as short as it was four weeks ago." He has staked out with SCS assistance, the last 4000 feet of terraces called for in his SCS water disposal plan.

How far a fisherman will stretch the truth depends on the length of his arms.
